" Balfour were subject to a management buyout in October 2011, this ensured that the senior management at Balfour were able to put in place a compliance team that are now responsible for sourcing the best locations, the best technologies and the best executions of all Balfour campaigns, In previous years there had been failings across more complicated events as there often are with new technologies and an under financed and under equipped team. With full funding from PE Balfour now guarantee that with the new team in place and new technology events will be delivered in a world-class fashion. We look forward to serving our clients and venues in the coming years. For full details please contact Mr. Jason Eston at Jason@balfour.tv
